

Course Outcome

Course on Computer Concepts

This course is designed to provide a broad understanding of fundamental concepts related to computers and their use. These course is suitable for beginners or individuals looking to gain a foundational understanding of computer science. After completing the course the student should be able to use computer for basic purposes of preparing his/her personal / professional letters, viewing information on Internet, receiving and sending mails, preparing presentations, preparing small databases etc. the course is beneficial for individuals seeking to improve their computer literacy.

Benefits of Kashmiri script writing: By the end of the course, non-Kashmiri language learners will have a foundational understanding of the Kashmiri script, enabling them to read and write basic Kashmiri. This course will also instill a deeper appreciation for the linguistic diversity and cultural richness of the Kashmiri language.

Benefits of Income Tax Course: By the end of the course, beginners will have a comprehensive understanding of the basics of income tax, enabling them to manage their own tax affairs or assist others in doing so.

GIS Basics: A Certificate Course in Spatial Analysis (Geography): This course is designed to provide students with the essential understanding and hands-on experience necessary in Geographic Information Systems (GIS). Specifically, the course aims to foster proficiency in utilizing GIS software tools, processing spatial data effectively, and applying basic spatial analysis techniques. The emphasis is on equipping students with the skills required to utilize GIS in spatial planning scenarios, allowing them to analyze geographical data and make informed decisions in various contexts such as urban development, environmental management, and infrastructure planning, healthcare planning. By the end of the course, students will be well-prepared to navigate GIS software, manipulate spatial data, and employ GIS techniques in practical spatial planning applications.

Governance and Leadership: Objective of the programme is to offer students the opportunity to become agents of change in the field of Public Policy & Administration. The programe is designed to build a cadre of trained public leaders capable of meeting political and public needs and solving the emerging issues in coming era. The course is conceptualised to bridge the gap between existing policy institutions and emerging social and policy challenges. The course aims to train a multidisciplinary team of professionals to engage with policy ideas through analysis of institutions and regulatory practices, public policy, social structure and politics & law.