About the College

Government Degree College Tral, established in 1988, is a NAAC accredited co-educational institution located at Bajwani, Tral of district Pulwama. Having a catchment area of about 85 villages, the college is one of the premier educational institutions of South Kashmir, affiliated with the University of Kashmir. The college, which is spread over more than around 12 acres of land, is recognised by the UGC Act of 1956 under Section 2(f) and 12 (B). Besides offering admission in the diverse subjects of Arts, Science and Commerce streams, the college also offers BCA. Being in complete harmony with nature, the college campus has an ideal academic environment which is well-supported by a resourceful library housing over 25,000 titles. The faculty of the college comprise a nice blend of young and experienced members with expertise in their fields of study.

About the Department

The Department of English Language and Literature is one of the oldest departments of the college. English being a compulsory subject for all streams, teaching has always been the top most priority for the department. Our department regularly serves more than 1500 undergraduate students in one academic session. The 06 members of the Department of English Language and Literature, themselves recognised by a combination of excellence and professional drive, foster the accomplishments of undergraduate students through their distinctive interests and student-centred, learning-focused teaching. The largest department in the college, the Department of English Language and Literature contributes in essential ways to students' personal growth, knowledge, and critical thinking abilities. We are committed to innovative teaching, scholarship, and service that promote cultural awareness, diversity, and ethical responsibility through the study of language and literature.

The students who graduate from this department have got absorbed in successful careers at all levels, in education, research, professional writing and editing, publishing, business, and journalism. With its strong emphasis on developing students' strengths as creative / critical thinkers with a strong foundation in the humanities our graduates have had great success in various areas.

We provide intensive mentoring to our students within and beyond the classroom in a variety of forums. Ongoing lectures, film screenings, workshops, seminars, symposia, conferences and colloquia on interdisciplinary themes make up our calendar. The department also offers some crucial skill based courses like Translation Studies, media writing and Soft-Skill courses for the students. At present the department offers graduation courses in English, English Literature and Functional English, and is planning to introduce PG English and Diploma Course in Spoken English in the near future.

About the Workshop

Soft skills are core skills which are sought after in every profession.

Whether you're a clerk in a firm or an administrator, a chef or a CEO, your soft skills are as decisive for your success as your technical know-how.

Irrespective of your professional background, the soft skills like motivational power, emotional intelligence time management, leadership, and open-mindedness are always desirable and worth-acquiring.

These are just a few out of many!

You might be wondering which soft skill is relevant for your career; and which one should you focus on.

This workshop would not only answer these queries, but would also help you imbibe these qualities in your persona.

Our team of experts would discuss different nuances of soft skills, their influence in personality development and in the improvement of productivity at the workplace.
